

MISS AMANDA

music teacher

Why Miss Amanda Loves Teaching:

“I love seeing students not only enjoy music but learn and grow as a musician!”

Miss Amanda teaches piano to students of all ages! She is a multi-instrumentalist, playing guitar, flute, oboe, violin, piano, saxophone, and clarinet.

Miss Amanda began taking music lessons at age 9, and continued throughout high school, and in college beginning with playing tenor saxophone in jazz band. In high school, she was a member of concert band, symphonic band, wind ensemble, pep band, and marching band. Her marching band won first place three years in a row in the class 4A WSMA state competition. Miss Amanda also performed with the Wisconsin Ambassadors of Music, touring 7 European countries in 16 days! She currently plays in the symphony band at UW-Milwaukee.

When she's not teaching at APA, Miss Amanda enjoys hanging out with friends and drinking coffee!
