Why Miss Felicia Loves Teaching:

“I am committed to supporting each student’s unique strengths and goals, not only in dance but in life.”

Miss Felicia teaches Hip Hop to students of all ages at APA!

Affectionately known by her students as Ms. FeFe, was born and raised in Kenosha. She began her dance journey in 6th grade at Sass Studios, where she trained in Ballet, Jazz, and Hip Hop. It was there that she first discovered her love of teaching, assisting in Creative Movement classes for Kindergartners—a formative experience that sparked her passion for working with young dancers and set the foundation for her future in dance education.

She continued her training at the renowned Gus Giordano Dance Company in Evanston, Illinois, where she honed her technique and deepened her artistry. Felicia also performed with the Bradford High School Dance Team and the Bradford Steppers Hip Hop Drill Team, which helped shape her versatility and confidence on stage. Her background extends into theatre as well, having performed in multiple musicals and later serving as choreographer for the Children’s Theatre Academy in Kenosha. There, she created choreography for full-length productions and led classes for over 70 students at a time—an experience that further fueled her dedication to mentoring young performers.

Outside of teaching, Felicia enjoys cultivating plants, practicing yoga and stretching, and exploring the creative world of aerial dance.
