

MISS ELEANOR

Music teacher

Why Miss Eleanor Loves Teaching:

“I think learning music should be engaging and fun! I love getting to know my students and sharing my knowledge of music with them.”

Miss Eleanor teaches classical violin to students of all skill levels, beginning at age 5. She also teaches beginner viola. She encourages her students to share music they're excited about—whether it's pop, film, musical theater, or music connected to their cultural background. Her goal is to make lessons engaging, personal, and enjoyable. If a student has any special needs, she will gladly do her best to accommodate them.

Born and raised in Michigan, Miss Eleanor has been playing the violin since she was six years old. She earned her undergraduate degree in music from Central Michigan University and is currently pursuing her Master's degree in String Pedagogy at the University of Wisconsin–Milwaukee. She performs regularly in orchestra concerts and occasionally as a soloist.

Outside of teaching, Miss Eleanor enjoys exploring parks and attending theater and music performances at her school.
